NEW PEACE TREATY OF ENGLAND AND JAPAN

Permanent Peace in the East Assured— The Terms Satisfactory.

London, Sept. 27.—The text of the new agreement between Great Britain and Japan, which was signed by Lord Lansdowne, the British foreign secretary, and Baron Hayashi, Japanese minister to Great Britain, on August 12, was issued by the foreign office last evening. The momentous document is a brief one, comprising less than 800 words, including eight articles and a preamble. Accompanying the agreement is a letter from Lord Lansdowne to the British ambassador at St. Petersburg and Paris for transmission to the Russian and French governments, respectively, in which the foreign secretary courteously reviews the agreement and carefully points out that the new defensive alliance is not intended as a menace but rather as a guarantee of peace and prosperity in the Far East, in which all countries may participate. The main features of the new agreement already have been forecasted in the Associated Press dispatches from London and Paris. The thirty articles of the official text, however, bring out forcibly the tremendous importance to both countries of this alliance, which practically makes Great Britain and Japan a unit for the purpose of defense "in the regions of East Asia and India."

This inclusion of India specifically as a point at which any aggression by a foreign power will call for the assistance of Japan, finds much favor with the press of London, the morning papers in long laudatory articles welcoming the new and more extensive alliance of the two insular kingdoms West and East as giving immediate relief from the dangerous thunder cloud which for so many years had hung over the Indian frontier.

Europe's Opinion.
London, Sept. 27.—The opinion in Europe in regard to the new Anglo-Japanese treaty seems to be that it is directed almost entirely at Russia as no other power is likely to come within its scope because it is limited to the Far East and India.

General Satisfaction in Japan.
Tokio, Sept. 27.—The announcement of the terms of the new Anglo-Japanese treaty was received with general satisfaction throughout Japan.

Aged Colored Women, Sisters, Meet Here for First Time in Half a Century

Harriett and Mary Stovall, colored, aged 68 and 78 respectively, who had been separated for the past 50 years, each thinking the other dead met last night and the rejoicing could be heard for blocks around. The strange part of the meeting is that both women have for years been residing within a few miles of each other and have been in the same town weekly, and never until chance happened to throw them together, met or received any word such as to the whereabouts of the other.

The meeting was brought about by accident. The Stovalls were born in slavery and took the name of their master, Stovall. When one of the Stovall daughters married Joseph Mason, Harriett, the colored slave, was given over to the daughter as a wedding present. The other sister, Mary Stovall colored, married a man named Hoppold and came to this county. The separation occurred over 50 years ago and neither sister heard of the other until this week.

Harriett Stovall removed to Illinois and took the name of Mason. She has been residing in Illinois a few miles from Paducah and comes to the city weekly with eggs, butter and poultry to sell. John Matthews, colored porter at the Palmer house, while conversing with his wife about her relatives was surprised to learn that her first husband was a brother to Mary Hoppold, one of the two sisters, who resides a few doors from Matthews. An investigation developed the fact that the Illinois woman was a sister of the Hoppold woman, and a meeting was arranged at the latter's house on South Seventh street last night.

The Illinois sister will remain in Paducah on a week's visit. It is said that this is one of the strangest coincidences on record.

200 Persons Injured and 8,000 Homeless From a Typhoon at Manila

New York, Sept. 27.—The Evening Sun has a dispatch from Manila reporting a destructive typhoon in that city. The native districts were swept away, 8,000 persons are homeless and five Filipinos were killed and two hundred injured. Hundreds of buildings were unroofed. Thousands of electric light wires were blown down, filling the streets with flames until the current was turned off.

The city was in darkness when the dispatch was sent, and all street traffic was suspended. It was believed that shipping in the bay had warning of the approach of the storm, but up to the time the dispatch was sent, the ships were invisible on account of the rain and had not communicated with the shore.

TAKES NO STOCK IN TALK OF TAINT

Chicago Minister Says He Wants
All He Can Get.

Says Talk of "Tainted Money" Is Almost Criminal—Blesses the Givers.

RICH FOOLS NOT THE ONLY ONES

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27.—The Rev. Dr. William Leach, of the Fulton M. E. church made a spirited defense of the use of "tainted" money for religious purposes, calling down the blessing of heaven upon rich men who distribute soiled wealth.

He expressed his regrets at not being possessed of money gathering talent, and declared that it takes a wise man to acquire wealth.

"The rich are not all fools, nor all fools rich," he said. "The world has whole brigades of fools poor, if not poorer, than 'Job's turkey.' It takes a wise man to be rich.

"Riches, as a rule, when acquired have wisdom and prudence as a foundation. I have no contention with a rich man; I am sorry my gifts were not toward money making. I make riches, but not money.

"The disappointed sneer at riches and would decry rich men. I say God bless them and make them ten times richer, if they use their wealth for men as the majority of our rich men are doing.

"The cry of 'tainted' money is almost criminal. I will use no devilish means to make money for God, but I will take all the money I can get from the devil and put it into Godly work. It is no longer tainted when touched by heavenly hands. I would like to turn the Devil's barracks into Christian bulwarks.

"There are more poor fools than rich ones. Men are poor because they have wasted God's fatness on their sins. It takes wisdom to save."

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST PADUCAH MAN.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 27.—A special to the Times from Madison, Ind., received at 1 o'clock says: "Harry Thompson, of Paducah, Ky., brutally raped Mrs. James Porter at Craig, Switzerland county, last night and escaped. Officers are after him."

The city directories show only one Harry Thompson, a plumber, and he went to Dyersburg, Tenn., several months ago, and is now living there. It is not believed the man mentioned above lives here.

Nuns are Stricken.

New Orleans, Sept. 27.—With three successive small lists of new cases, it begins again to look as though the situation was improving. A group of four cases among the nuns in the convent of Perpetual Adoration on Marais street was reported by the attending physicians. The country report was meagre and indicated no new points of infection.

Tighter at Cairo.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 27.—The Illinois state board of health gave final notice yesterday that there would be no temporizing in the future with those who undertook to violate in the slightest degree the quarantine regulations. The quarantine lines were reinforced in every way and inspectors were directed to adhere to regulations regardless of where the pressure fell. As a result of the adoption of more stringent measures two important transportation lines were caught in the net and steps were taken to close tightly several leaks which have been watched carefully for sometime past.

Hounded to Death.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 27.—A horrible story of the death of a Louisville man who was traveling for a St. Louis house was received here from Bastrop, La. According to the few details which have reached here, the man, Henry Houseworth, was hounded from one place to another by the quarantine guards and was refused food and water by the people of the section through which he passed. He continued his trip as far as he was able, but as he made no secret of the fact that he had stopped for several days at infected points, he was not allowed to board the trains, and was compelled to walk from one town to another. After a week's trip under such conditions of hardships and starvation the dead body of the man was found near the railroad station at Jones, La.

The people in the vicinity of the place where the man was found do not show the least compunction for the manner in which he was driven from place to place, and say since it was a struggle for self-preservation on both sides they are not more to blame for throwing him out of one place after another than he was for trying to enter the various towns after being at infected points.

Baron Komura Sails.

Since the settlement of the Russian-Japanese war, the president has been devoting himself daily to preparing his message to congress. While this message cannot be completed this early, much of it can be put in shape for such additional information as may be furnished by the cabinet officers at Washington.

Short, stocky, her light hair parted and tied in a tight knot at the back of her head, wearing heels and shoes and plain garb, she is as like the ordinary hair-dressers as the "new woman" is like a Broadway show-girl.
